DIRECTORS' REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED
30 JUNE 2013

30 August 2013

To Member Organisations and Stakeholders

I have pleasure in presenting the Directors' Report of the Occupational Therapy Council (Australia & New Zealand) Ltd (OTC) for the twelve months ended 30 June 2013.

With the occupational therapy profession's inclusion into the National Registration and Accreditation Scheme on 1 July 2012, the OTC was appointed as the accreditation and assessment authority under the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law Act (National Law).

This role requires the OTC to continue its ongoing administration of the assessment of overseas-trained occupational therapists for skilled migration and practice in Australia, and assume the responsibility for the accreditation of occupational therapy programs offered by educational providers in Australia.

The commitment of our directors and committee members to enable the OTC to assume its new role in compliance with the National Law is to be commended, and greatly appreciated.

The accreditation process has been undertaken by Occupational Therapy Australia Ltd (OTAL) and the OTC has been fortunate to be able to rely on the corporate experience and knowledge of OTAL to assist with a smooth transition of this accreditation function. On behalf of the directors, I would like to thank OTAL for its cooperation in assisting with this process.

ASSESSMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR OVERSEAS PERSONS

a) ASSESSMENT PROCEDURE

The Australian Government's skilled migration program is implemented through a partnership between government and industry. The Occupational Therapy Council (Australia & New Zealand) Ltd (OTC) has been specified by the Minister for Immigration and Citizenship in accordance with the Migration Regulations 1994 as the assessing authority for the occupation of Occupational Therapist ANZSCO Code: 252411. For migration purposes, occupational therapy skills are assessed as "suitable" or "not suitable" against the requirements established by the OTC.

Overseas-trained occupational therapists who wish to apply to migrate to Australia under the skilled migration program must have their qualifications and skills assessed by OTC.

The assessment procedure also applies to overseas-trained occupational therapists wanting to practise in Australia or New Zealand. These practitioners wishing to practise in Australia must have their qualification and skills assessed in order to apply for registration with the Occupational Therapy Board of Australia (OTBA) via the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA).

Stage 1 of the OTC assessment of overseas qualifications is undertaken via a desktop assessment of qualifications and English language proficiency.

The practitioner will be assessed against the following criteria (all copied documentation must be certified correctly in accordance with the requirements below):

Proof of Identity

The practitioner must provide photographic identification (passport or driver's licence) when submitting their application.

If the name of the practitioner has changed and is different from that shown on the qualification upon which they rely, then evidence/proof of this change of name should be provided i.e. marriage certificate, deed poll, divorce papers.

Qualifications

The practitioner must demonstrate successful completion of a tertiary education programme leading to an award in occupational therapy (undergraduate or graduate entry). This programme must:

- have been accredited by the World Federation of Occupational Therapy (WFOT) at the time of graduation, and
- be comparable to an Australian Bachelor or Graduate Entry Masters degree in accordance with Country Education Profiles produced by Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR).

A certified copy of qualification papers must be provided i.e. degree, diploma, certificate, together with associated transcript.

WFOT approval must have been in place at the time of graduation and cannot be considered retrospectively i.e. if the institution or programme received WFOT approval after the time of graduation, this will not be sufficient to meet the criteria for assessment.

An approved WFOT programme is taken to mean those courses listed on the WFOT website under "Education – Entry Level Educational Programs WFOT Approved" which at the time of graduation was approved, and:

Pre 2002: fall within five years after the year last reviewed by WFOT;
Post 2002: fall within five years (for three-year courses) of the year last reviewed by WFOT;

or

fall within seven years (for four-year courses) of the year last reviewed by the WFOT.

Academic Review Committee (ARC)

Applications that fail to meet the qualifications criteria will be referred to the ARC of the OTC who will consider the qualifications that were completed as occupational therapy training, but are:

- WFOT accredited but assessed as not comparable to an Australian degree (AEI-NOOSR)
- or
- assessed as being comparable to an Australian degree (AEI-NOOSR) but not WFOT accredited.

The practitioner will be advised of the referral of their application to the ARC, and will be asked to provide additional information (e.g. course handbooks, supervisor reports relating to the practitioner's practical components of the course) to enable the ARC to undertake a thorough assessment of the qualifications.

There will be no additional charge to the practitioner for this review by the ARC.

English Language Proficiency

High-level competence in English language is essential for the practice of occupational therapy in Australia. The practitioner must submit evidence to demonstrate sufficient English language skills to work as an occupational therapist in an English language environment. Practitioners applying for skilled migration or practice in Australia must provide, either:

- evidence that their secondary education AND their tertiary qualification upon which they rely for assessment have been taught and assessed in English, in one of the following countries:
 - Australia
 - New Zealand
 - United States of America
 - United Kingdom
 - Republic of Ireland
 - Canada
 - South Africa

A certified copy of the educational transcripts or letter must be provided from the secondary school and tertiary institution in Canada or South Africa attesting that courses were taught and assessed in English (including subjects, hours, examination results and, where applicable, details of clinical education when relating to the tertiary education).

If documents are unavailable, there is a process below to address this (Documents Unavailable).

OR

- complete, to the level specified, one of the OTC-approved English language tests outlined below:
 - International English Language Testing System (IELTS) examination (Academic Module) – a minimum score of seven (7) in each of the four competencies (listening, reading, writing and speaking).

- Occupational English Test (OET) – a minimum grade of A or B in each of the four competencies (listening, reading, writing and speaking).

The results must have been obtained within two (2) years of application for assessment, and achieved in one sitting.

A certified copy of either IELTS or OET must be provided.

If satisfactory results of an IELTS or OET are more than two years old at the time of application, two original written references from professional referees are required. These should attest that the practitioner has maintained employment as an occupational therapist, in one of the countries listed above, using English as the primary language of practice.

The Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC) may also require occupational therapists to meet English language proficiency standards even though the OTC has assessed the practitioner as meeting all its requirements.

Statement of Service

Practitioners must include a brief curriculum vitae (no more than two pages) demonstrating their working experience as an occupational therapist in the past five (5) years.

Practitioners who apply for a Stage 1 assessment within three months of graduating may not be able to provide a working history, and must advise the OTC of this when making an application.

Certification

All copied documentation must be certified appropriately as true copies of the original by an appropriate person. In Australia, people who are authorised to certify copies are:

- Justices of the Peace (JP).
- Legal practitioners.
- Persons eligible to sign statutory declarations
- Employees authorised by the OTC.

In countries outside Australia:

- Notary public.
- Registered legal practitioners.
- Australian Embassy or Australian High Commission personnel.

To have copies certified, the practitioner must present both the original and the copy to the person carrying out the certification.

Each copy of the document must be certified separately and must show clearly:

- the words "certified true copy of the original";
- the signature of the certifying officer; and
- the name, address, position and phone number (with international dialling codes) of the certifying officer legibly printed below the signature. It must be possible, from the details provided, for the OTC to contact the certifying officer if necessary.

Translation of Documents

If the practitioner's qualification has been undertaken in a language other than English, a translated document must accompany the certified copy of the original qualification document. In Australia translation should be undertaken by an accredited NAATI (National Accreditation Authority for Translations and Interpreters Ltd) translator. Further information can be found on its website at www.naati.com.au

An assessment will not be undertaken unless translations are provided.

Authenticity of Documents

If the authenticity of documents is suspected they will be provided by the OTC Executive Officer to DIAC for an opinion. The OTC will not progress with the assessment until advice has been received from DIAC. The assessment fee will not be refunded.

Documents Unavailable

Practitioners who cannot obtain the required documents should attach a letter to the application form identifying which documents they cannot obtain, and explaining the reasons for this. Each case will be considered, and a Statutory Declaration from the practitioner explaining why documents are unavailable may be required if the assessment outcome relies on unobtainable documents. In this situation, the OTC Executive Officer will refer the information to the Overseas Qualification Assessment Committee (OQAC) for consideration during assessment.

Number of Attempts

Practitioners may make an unlimited number of attempts for a Stage 1 assessment. Each repeat application must be accompanied by the appropriate fee. If the practitioner has previously been found to be unsuitable, the practitioner must provide additional evidence to demonstrate how they meet the criteria.

The practitioner has two years in which to commence the Stage 2 (Supervision Agreement) and Stage 3 (Supervised Practice) before they will be required to apply for a review of the Stage 1 assessment.

Advice and Feedback to Practitioners

Practitioners considering or preparing an application for the Stage 1 assessment may seek advice from the OTC Executive Officer. Where applications fail to meet the OTC requirements for the Stage 1 assessment, practitioners are advised in writing giving reasons where their assessment fails to meet the requirements. They will be asked to provide additional information for the assessment to continue. This documentary evidence must be received within 12 months of the OTC mailing the results.

b) MODIFIED DESKTOP ASSESSMENT

A Modified Desktop Assessment is available for:

- Australian and New Zealand trained occupational therapists holding qualifications recognised by the Council. Persons who graduated five years prior (from the date of application) must have worked as an occupational therapist in Australia or New Zealand for at least six months full-time equivalent in the last five years.
- Australian and New Zealand fully registered occupational therapists (applicants from New Zealand) must hold a current annual practising certificate. Successful persons in the categories (a) and (b) above will not be required to undertake a practice audit.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY BOARD OF AUSTRALIA (OTBA)

During the year to 30 June 2013 the OTC directors and/or its representatives have attended a number of face-to-face and teleconference meetings to facilitate a smooth transition of the assessment and accreditation functions to the OTC.

The OTC currently assesses qualifications and skills of overseas-trained occupational therapists and recommends recognition of accredited programs of study for registration purposes. The OTC has the charter, independence and capacity to undertake the full range of accreditation functions outlined in the Australian Health Practitioner National Law.

The OTBA has advised the OTC of its responsibility to have independent carriage of the accreditation functions prior to June 2014.

The accreditation functions are:

- developing accreditation standards for approval by a National Board;
- assessing programs of study, and the education providers that provide the programs of study, to determine whether the programs meet approved accreditation standards;
- assessing authorities in other countries to decide whether persons who complete the program of study conducted or accredited by the authorities have the skills and knowledge to practise the profession in Australia;
- overseeing the assessment of the skills and knowledge of overseas-trained occupational therapists who are seeking registration in Australia, and
- making recommendations and giving advice to a National Board about the above matters.

The organisational structure of OTC under the NRAS would appear as follows:

FINANCES

The OTC has been endorsed by the Australian Taxation Office as an income tax exempt charitable entity.

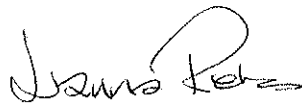

The fees for assessing overseas qualifications are GST free in accordance with Section 38-110 of A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act, 1999.

The OTC is registered for GST and has an ABN – 50 377 833 627.
